BANKERS TOLD
GOOD RELATIONS ARE ESSENTIAL

"The quantity of gold in your bank is not nearly so important as is the quality of the gold in those who handle it," Rev. Porter W. Selwell, pastor of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Littlestown, told 172 members and guests at the eighth annual stockholders' dinner of the National Bank of Gettysburg, held in the social room of the Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church, Gettysburg, at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening.

"I want to speak to you this evening about 'Money Can't Buy Good Public Relations,' or 'The Importance of a Friendly Bank in a Friendly Town.' In other words, banking with a philosophy behind it," Rev. Mr. Selwell said.

"Never underestimate the value of the little fellow. The little fellow is king in America but he does not think so. He looks at you bankers with friendliness or suspicion. You are the ones who determine the way he looks at you. It is the reception he receives when he enters your bank that determines his attitude.

"Lot Of Foolishness"

"Everything money can buy depends for its ultimate value on the things money cannot buy. All the money in your vaults is not worth more than the smile on an old lady's face after she has done business in your bank. Your money is not worth the heart beat of an anxious father who needs a loan for a sick child. Progress is based on these good public relations.

"We live in a country that is financially minded. But all the financial progress has not meant for happiness, security or contentment. Someone has said that the great white way in New York City is marvelous if you can't read. What does it advertise? To what use has the genius of such men as Edison been put? To advertise cigarettes, coca-cola, several kinds of beer — a lot of bosh. We make movies that degrade the morals of our people. We use the radio to give nonsense a broader hearing. Most of it is of the level of a third grade child — a lot of foolishness.

"We have developed advanced techniques. For what? To make war and to destroy. What would you think of a manufacturer who offered for sale a 1957 car with a Cadillac motor, Model T brakes and bicycle lights for head lamps? The man would be a fool. And yet that is almost a picture of our life. We have more knowledge but less wisdom. We have more fear and insecurity. Have you ever heard of a frustrated Pilgrim?"

"Someone asked a man if the U. N. will work. The man replied, 'Will a shovel?' It takes men and women to make things work. How much do you rely on the things you have? Which is more important to you — ownership or possession? A man may have a large, beautiful library but if he does not know what is in the books he only owns it. You may have a beautiful house but if you do not possess it, it is not a home. People today applaud and exult money.

"Voltaire said, 'When it is a question of money, men are of the same religion.' That is not so, Jesus and Judas had different ideas about money. How do you look at the people who come into your bank? Do you see them as friends whom you can help? Or do you see them as people who can help your bank? It makes a great difference how you look at people. Many a burden is lifted by the helping hand of a friend.

"I pray that the people in this community will be able to continue to look on the bank in Gettysburg as the friendly bank. The important thing is not the cash and loans (Continued On Page 2)

Florida Buckles Under Icy Storm Winds; See No Relief

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Icy winds from a gigantic storm off the coast of Virginia continued to blast south-east Florida today, and no immediate relief was in sight.

TELLS CLUB OF
BEN FRANKLIN

Dr. Robert L. Bloom, assistant professor of history at Gettysburg College, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday evening at the VFW Home. He spoke on the life of Benjamin Franklin and referred to him as "The Controversial Figure, a scientist and practical man; a loyal patriot and a skilled politician; author and publisher of 148 works." He pointed out that Franklin was the sole drafter of the Pennsylvania Constitution, and one of a committee of three to draft the Declaration of Independence.

Dr. Bloom spoke of Franklin's boyhood and his arrival in Philadelphia in 1724, and after middle life how he was sought out as an outstanding man.

He quoted a letter to Ezra Stiles, dated March 9, 1790, in which Franklin revealed his religious conception, also a letter from George Washington to Franklin, Sept. 23, 1789, in which Washington commended Franklin.

Great In Any Time

"Franklin was not one of those men who owe their greatness merely to the opportunities of their times. In any age, in any place, Franklin would have been great. Franklin's powers were from first to last in a flexible equilibrium. Even his genius could not specialize him. He moved through his world with a humorous mastery of it. Comfortable as Franklin's possessions and numerous as his achievements were, they were less than he was. He seems to have been more than any single man; a harmonious human multitude," Dr. Bloom said.

President Charles S. Graham presided at the meeting.

A past president's pin was presented to Ernest Krape.

WILL DEDICATE
NEW PAROCHIAL SCHOOL SUNDAY
IN NEW OXFORD

New Oxford's new parochial school and convent will be blessed and dedicated Sunday afternoon at services starting at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

His Excellency, Most Rev. George L. Leech, Bishop of Harrisburg, will officiate at the service which will begin at the new school building at 4 and then proceed to Immaculate Conception Church where the dedication exercises will conclude with a sermon by the Rev. Fr. Joseph Kealy, pastor of St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Waynesboro, and solemn benediction with Bishop Leech as celebrant.

Priests from throughout the area are expected to be present for the services which mark the completion of work that began last April 25 at New Oxford and the development of what has been described as one of the outstanding parochial schools in the diocese.

Space For Expansion

Sisters of Mercy from throughout the diocese are to be represented for the dedicatory services. The Sisters of St. Joseph and the Sisters of Christian Charity are planning to send representatives from McSherrystown for the event.

The public services will include the dedication at the school and the church service following. The blessing of the convent will be in private.

Both the school and new convent will permit the parish to "grow" with the years. Rev. Fr. Philip J. Gergen, pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, said. Only five of the eight rooms in the school are now being used for the 256 pupils. As more teachers are available and more students use the school over the years, it can expand by utilizing more of the classrooms.

The new convent has, in addition to the kitchen, dining room, community room and chapel on the ground floor, two bedrooms, an office and two bathrooms on the second floor, so that space can be provided for three nuns in addition to the four now occupying the convent.

General Purpose Room

In addition to the four Sisters of Mercy, a lay teacher, Mrs. Robert F. Keffer, Hanover, is a teacher at the new school.

The new structure was built by using the original school as a basis and adding four classrooms to it, while remodeling all of the former rooms. In addition to the eight classrooms, there is also a general purpose room, the former hall, which was converted by removing the large stage and replacing it with a kitchen and a smaller, more modern stage — thus the large room can be used (Continued On Page 2)

BUYS GAS AND OIL BUT FAILS TO PAY

State police here were looking today for a battered car carrying Wisconsin license plates that drove off from the Amandus Reber service station five miles east of here on the Lincoln Highway at 9 o'clock Monday evening before the operator paid for gas and oil he had bought.

Francis Galovich, brother-in-law of the proprietor who was in charge of the station at the time, said the driver had ordered the gasoline tank of the car filled and had bought a quart of oil. Then he asked for two additional quarts of oil in cans and when Galovich went into the station, he drove off in the direction of Gettysburg. The unpaid bill totaled $3.95.

Galovich said the license number was J93-248. He said one headlamp and one door of the car were considerably damaged. Most of the car was a light color but the damaged door was blue.

State police here were notified and began a search for the machine.

highlights in the military career of Cole's Cavalry. She displayed old Company C record books kept by her father, Lt. Oscar D. McMillan, a company officer.

Captured Ammunition Train
Assigned chiefly to scouting, raiding and picket duty in their general task of guarding the northern border, Cole's Cavalry covered 7,000 miles and took part in 80 battles and engagements. Company C alone suffered a total of 169 casualties in the four years.

Company C was recruited chiefly in this county by Capt. John Horner of near Emmitsburg. It was one of the early cavalry units but a total of 12 companies were added later to make a full regiment.

Miss McMillan told of an escape from surrounding Confederate troops at Harper's Ferry in the spring of 1862 when Major Cole refused to surrender and led Union troops out of the trap at night. The breakthrough was led by Company C which the same night captured a Rebel ammunition train, the loss of which contributed to Lee's defeat next day at Antietam. The captured train was taken to Chambersburg.

Reads Scott's Song
Miss McMillan read the poem by Corp. James A. Scott on the historic "Battle in the Snow" and also read Scott's song "Heroes of Gettysburg" which was set to music and sung by the company glee club. In later years it was used in the public schools here, the speaker said.

The speaker also read Sgt. McAllister's account of his capture at New Market, Va., and his seven subsequent months at Andersonville prison. Sections of Lt. McIlhenny's diary on a "starvation" march through Shenandoah Valley in 1864 were read as were accounts of scouting expeditions out of Harper's Ferry where the company was serving at the time of the Battle of Gettysburg.

The society gave Miss McMillan a rising vote of thanks for her presentation of the program.

346 Visitors At Museum
Mrs. George Ditchburn, chairman of the genealogy committee, said the society has 101 files on genealogies and listed the Plank family history as one of the most extensive received during the last year.

Warn U. S. On Red Situation

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles today called for the country to "wake up" to the economic and social contest with the Soviets in which defeat would be "disastrous."

The call was made in a statement which Dulles gave out at a news conference after checking it with President Eisenhower. He said Eisenhower suggested its release.

The statement was prepared by the U. S. delegation to the recent U. N. General Assembly. The delegation sent it to Dulles who reviewed it with the President just before Christmas.

Dulles said he was giving it out today, at the President's suggestion, because this was his first news conference since the matter came up.

Discussion made clear however, that he hopes the statement will help swing public opinion behind the administration's foreign economic aid request to Congress.

as both an auditorium and a cafeteria.

The 256 youngsters currently using the school have found their rooms the most modern in the state. It is for example the only parochial school in the diocese in which all vent hand driers are installed.

Has Modern Features
Modern lighting, tile flooring, germicidal lamps are some of the features of the large, airy, sunny rooms. The primary room itself is a particular pride of the school. The tiny youngsters have their own bathrooms, drinking fountains, etc. constructed right into their own rooms so that they need not enter the remainder of the school for any need.

Fathers of a number of the pupils helped in completing the new school by assembling and placing classroom furniture during the holidays. Each of the new rooms includes in its furnishings the statue of a religious subject with a juvenile appeal. In addition to sacred subjects, familiar nursery pictures decorate the primary room.

Originally it had been hoped that the new school would be completed in time for the opening of school in September but bad weather delayed work on a result the youngsters started school while work was still progressing. As rooms were completed they moved from original rooms to the new part while work was completed in the other rooms.

Large Parish
Youngsters attend the New Oxford school from over a radius of almost 20 miles. The parish extends from Cross Keys on the east, nearly to Gettysburg on the west, borders on the Hanover churches and Coneyago Chapel and reaches scattered families as far north as York Springs. School buses bring many of the children to the school.

The new convent is the former Snyder property adjoining the former convent, across the street from the church.

Rev. Fr. Philip J. Gergen, pastor of the parish, supervised the work of the new construction with the exception of a period during the start when he was absent on a visit to Rome where he witnessed the canonization ceremonies of six new saints. During that time the school building business was supervised by Rev. Fr. Gregorio Donoso, Chilean-born Jesuit, who was in this country to study and who managed all of the parish affairs at New Oxford while Father Gergen made his pilgrimage.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Dollar Goes Further As 1931 Dawns; Buyers Find More For Money In Stores: The 1931 dollar will purchase from ten to fifty per cent more in Gettysburg than the 1930 dollar.

A survey of prices at various Gettysburg stores, conducted by The Gettysburg Times, reveals that while the income of individuals may not be as large, because of shorter working hours, than they were a year ago, it requires fewer dollars to provide the family with the necessities and many of the luxuries of life now than it did in January 1930.

Will Start On Hoover Dam: Denver (AP) — Within the coming few months the mammoth Hoover dam will start pushing up from the depths of Black canyon. Contractors' bids will be announced March 4 by the Denver office of the United States bureau of reclamation and then construction of the dam, power plant and Boulder canyon project in Arizona, Nevada and California will get underway.

The estimated cost of the Hoover dam and power plant is $108,200,000. The dam will tower more than 700 feet above bed rock. Raymond F. Walter, chief engineer, said the dam is "the biggest and most important engineering feat in history."

Past Grands Elect Friday: The regular monthly meeting of the Past Grands Association of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows was held on Friday evening at Montana lodge 653 Bendersville. George F. Dutta, Littlestown, president of the association, was in charge of the meeting.

Election of officers for the ensuing year was the principal item of business. J. Ray Rinedollar, Littlestown, was elected president; Dennis Asper, Aspers; Charles Reck, Fairfield; Gervus W. Myers, Gettysburg; Ernest R. Sentz, Littlestown and E. W. Wright, York Springs, vice presidents; H. W. Knouse, Bendersville, secretary; Wilbur H. Schwartz, Gettysburg, assistant secretary; O. A. Lupp, Gettysburg, treasurer.

In County Since Christmas, Boy Has Smallpox: The only case of smallpox in Pennsylvania at the present time and the first case in Adams county in recent years was placed under strict quarantine on the Rife farm in Hamilton township, New Oxford R. D. Sunday by Dr. Eugene Elgin, East Berlin. Adams county medical director. The patient is Daniel Gorman, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Gorman. Where the patient contracted the disease is unknown.

Increase Appropriation For Gettysburg Military Park: Fix 1931 Sum At $72,795: The federal appropriation for the Gettysburg national park will be $15,650 greater this fiscal year than for the one which ends June 30, it was indicated today when the house appropriations committee reported an item of $72,795 for the military park in the war department appropriation bill.

Earl Wineman Weds Margaret Wolfe: Earl Mickleby Wineman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wineman, Springs avenue, and Miss Margaret Emma Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Wolfe, near New Oxford, were married Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's pastor by the Rev. Paul Glatfelter, pastor of the Abbotstown Lutheran church.

Sheriff Has Record Year: Although fewer sheriff's executions were recorded in Adams county in 1930 than in 1929 the number of farms and homes sold under the sheriff's hammer last year was almost double that of the previous year.

In 1929, twenty-seven farm and home properties were sold by Sheriff G. D. Morrison as compared with fifty-three in 1930. Most of the farms and homes were sold because the owners were unable to meet interest payments of banks, building and loan associations and other money-lending institutions.

Today's Talk

THE MAGIC OF BELLS
Bells have always intrigued me and I find it difficult to pass an opportunity to buy interesting ones to add to my collection. Edgar A. Poe wrote a famous poem he called "The Bells." As you read the poem you almost hear the tinkle of the bells he writes about.

John Buchanan, the English writer, wrote: "There is no music so dominant as bells. Their voice occupies sky as well as earth, and they overwhelm the senses, so that a man's blood must keep pace with their beat." Lafcadio Hearn wrote several stories about bells. The most famous one, "The Soul of the Great Bell," is found in his early book, "Chinese Ghosts." Bells have also been immortalized by Longfellow, Cowper, Moore, Tennyson, Lowell and a host of others.

Burton, in his famous great poem "Kasidah," kept referring to "the tinkling of the camel's bell." I have an old cow bell that was made by hand a long time ago. Its tone is as familiar and beautiful as when I heard similar ones in the valleys of Michigan in my early youth. There were the sleigh bells then, too, but they now only tell a story of the past. On the farm the dinner bell sounded mighty good!

The story of bells is a long one and comprises a multitude of sizes, from tiny ones to those of the great cathedrals. There is a magic ring to them all. The ox teams that were so plentiful a few years ago in Nova Scotia always had a small bell on their yoke, and it was an interesting sight.

There were the bells of the churches in the small towns that bring back nostalgic memories — especially to me for I used to ring one myself! Then there were, in Ireland, the "Bells of Shannon" that sound so grand on the pleasant waters of the river Lee.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Chance Meetings" Protected, 1936, By The George Matthews Adams Service

Just Folks

THE MAGICAL DOCTOR
Comes a crying toddler to me
And she springs into my lap
And she sobs and wails the story
Of her terrible mishap.
Then I listen, all attention,
To the tale she has to tell.
How she bumped her head, and then I
Kiss the spot and make it well.

Oh, I make the dandy doctor:
Little bruises I can heal.
I have cured more aches and sorrows
Than I ever can reveal.
I can set her face to smiling
And her anguish quick dispel.
When she murmurs: "I am hurted,
Grandpa, kiss and make it well."

In the big world that's before her
There are greater aches she'll know;
There are nights that she'll spend weeping
When her heart is torn with woe;
And I pray that she'll come running
As she does today to tell
All her troubles to her Grandpa.
For his kiss to make them well.

Spangler's Spring, Famed As Meeting Place Of Blue And Gray, Reported Dry: Spangler's spring at which troops of both the northern and southern armies drank during the battle of Gettysburg is dry. James B. Aumen, assistant superintendent of the Gettysburg National Military park, expressed the opinion that the spring had never ceased giving pure cool water since the battle in 1863.

For several weeks the level of water at the famous spring has been falling steadily and about ten days ago the spring dried up entirely.

Reveal Secret Marriage Here: The marriage of Miss Grace A. Hummer and Fred G. Pfeiffer, both of Gettysburg, at Fredericksburg, Virginia, on January 9, 1930, was announced Friday evening, the first anniversary of the wedding, when Mrs. Pfeiffer entertained a number of friends at her home here. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ernest W. Aaron, pastor of the Methodist church.

Carlisle Takes Ninth Win At Expense Of GHS 62-45; Reserves Defeated 47-33

Carlisle High's undefeated eagles led all the way in defeating the Gettysburg High Warriors 62-45 Tuesday evening in a South Penn League game on the Herd's floor.

The Warriors dropped behind 14-7 in the first period when their lone field goal during the round was sunk by Merle Gorman. Rolf Johnson netted a trio of fouls and Earl Little a pair to account for the other tallies. Neff, McDonnell, Washington and Graham kept the Thundering Herd in front and dropped in six for six free throws.

Clyde Washington, who was the top man of the evening with 24 points, netted three goals for Carlisle to keep his team on top in an evenly contested second period. Little swished a pair for the Warriors and Graham kept the Thundering Herd in front and dropped in six for six free throws.

Carlisle pulled away in the final frame on the scoring of Neff and Washington. Jon Wagnild, Johnson and Little produced all of the local scores.

The victory was the ninth straight for Carlisle this year while the setback dropped Gettysburg's record to 4-3.

Chambersburg, also unbeaten in league competition, will come here Friday evening.

Ray Ellis' Jayvees lost the preliminary 47-33, trailing throughout. Kenny Keefe was the top point-gatherer in the game and dropped in 20 tallies.

News Items For Upper End

JANUARY IS "EGG MONTH"

Prospects that egg production in Pennsylvania this month would break all records today led George M. Leader to designate January as "Egg Month."

"Pennsylvania poultrymen outrank those of all other states in cash income obtained by farmers from the sale of fresh, high quality eggs. Last year the total was $150 million which represented a decline of almost $20 million from the year before, even though total production exceeded four billion eggs, highest ever known in the state."

"Based on past performances, egg production in Pennsylvania during January will exceed December output by 25 to 30 millions. Egg then will become more plentiful, increasing month by month through March when more than 400 million eggs will be marketed by our poultry farmers."

"January is the time for people of all ages to get the habit of eating more eggs and continue that habit every month in the year. Eggs help balance the diets of individuals from babyhood through old age. They build up vigor to help ward off winter colds. They are easy to prepare and add appeal to any meal."

"The Pennsylvania State Poultry Federation is joining in a national campaign for the observance of January Egg Month," he said. "I strongly commend this campaign to all consumers and urge greater use of eggs in the home, in restaurants, hotels, hospitals, state institutions, dining cars, airlines, and school lunch operations."

Harrisburg Dope Peddler Is Jailed

HARRISBURG (P)—A Harrisburg man was sentenced to 2½ to 5 years in jail and fined $1,000 in Dauphin County Criminal Court Monday on charges of unlawful sale and possession of narcotic drugs.

Judge Walter R. Sohn sentenced Nicholas J. Calla, 22, after Calla pleaded guilty to the charge. Huette F. Dowling, Dauphin County district attorney, said the defendant refused to reveal the source of his narcotic supply.

The judge also imposed a $500 fine and 12-24 month jail sentence on Ernest Marshall, 35, also of Harrisburg, whom Dowling said was the recipient of the narcotics while he was a patient in a local hospital.

Calla, who would only say he secured the drugs in Philadelphia, declared he "had definite fears of reprisals" if he revealed his source.

Judge Sohn indicated he would reduce the sentence if Calla "would talk."

ATE THE INVENTORY

PHILADELPHIA (P)—The census of animals at Philadelphia Zoo came to an abrupt halt when census taker John Nestor lost his inventory sheet. He said he was counting Barbary sheep when one of the animals grabbed the paper and ate it.

The training college of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Regina, Saskatchewan, has perhaps the only church in the world used exclusively by policemen.

DEVELOP NEW APPLE VARIETY

Government plant breeders have developed a new variety of winespap apple tree which, the Department of Agriculture says, should produce extra-large apples.

The new stock is called a tetraploid plant because it contains double the usual number of chromosomes. Those are the minute structures which carry genes, the biological units that determine hereditary characteristics.

Using plant surgery, Dr. Haig Dermen developed tetraploid shoots at the department's Beltsville (Md.) research station. The work followed discovery of a branch with the different chromosome make-up on an otherwise normal winespap tree in the J. J. Reimer orchard at Palisada, Wash.

The development said scientists hope the new tree will provide breeding stock that "may help growers produce large-size apples having the high quality and disease resistance of the winespap."

Fruit from a 100 per cent tetraploid winespap probably will be too big and irregular, the department said. But it added that used as a "parent" with other varieties, the new plant "may well produce marketable fruit of superior quality."

The department said it may take five years to learn exactly what quality and size of fruit will come from the 100 per cent tetraploid winespap.

CARE FOR HUNTING EQUIPMENT — Now that the 1955 hunting season is over, Robert Wingard, Penn State extension wildlife management specialist, suggests care of guns and equipment. Before storing guns in the closet or gun cabinet, a thorough cleaning and preserving is in order.

PROTECT TRACTOR — Make sure the tractor is ready for the cold winter weather, urges Morris Schroeder, Penn State extension agricultural engineer. Even though it is operated less in winter, a tractor can suffer more during cold months than from all the hours of operation during the summer.

DEMAND FOR VEGETABLES — Consumer demand for commercially produced fresh and processed vegetables in 1956 probably will be just as strong as it was in 1955, reminds

Leader Considers School Study Group

HARRISBURG (P)—The idea of naming a special 11-member committee to launch long-range plans for attacking education problems in Pennsylvania was considered

Robert Donaldson, Penn State extension agricultural economist.

CATTLE NEED MINERALS — A constant supply of salt and minerals should be available to cattle the year around, says Thomas King, Penn State extension livestock specialist.

ORDER VEGETABLE SEED — Because of an expected shortage of seeds of several vegetable, Robert Fletcher, Penn State extension vegetable specialist, urges growers to order seeds early.

Tuesday by Gov. Leader.

Dr. Ralph C. Swan, acting superintendent of public instruction, made the disclosure Monday in describing school finances and the teacher shortage as the principal problems to be tackled by the group.

"This is an outgrowth of the recent White House conference on education," Swan said. "What this committee hopes to do is to implement the recommendations from that conference."

Swan said he asked the governor to name such a committee with the Department of Public Instruction serving as an adviser to the group.

The average U.S. male's lifetime quota of meat in terms of live animals represents 33 hogs, 10 lambs, 8 steers and 4 veal calves.

SAYS IKE MUST WAIT DOCTOR'S NEXT DECISION

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower would have some good political reasons for staying mum a while if he has decided not to run again.

He has already indicated he reached some decision because he said his mind is not so fixed that he can't change it.

He'd probably anger a lot of Republicans if he said he won't run now instead of waiting till mid-February when the doctors say whether they think he's able to.

They could say: "The party needs him but he made up his mind even before waiting for the doctors to tell him what shape he's in."

Eisenhower could forestall that kind of complaint by waiting until after the medical verdict is in. He may do that, if he's not going to run.

Want Final Decision
By the same token he could hardly say he will run until the doctors tell him and the country whether they think he's physically able to.

If he has about decided not to try again he could, by waiting a while before saying so, get the maximum mileage out of his program.

But if he said now he won't run again, attention for his programs almost certainly would get lost sight of in the hub-bub over his announcement.

By mid-February, when Eisenhower gets the doctors' word on his physical condition, all the major parts of his program should be in Congress' hands.

Would Get Support
For at least that long—or as long as the Republicans still have some hope he'll head their ticket again—

State Buys Vehicles Worth $1 Million

HARRISBURG (AP)—The commonwealth Tuesday bought more than a million dollars worth of new automobiles and trucks under a policy of keeping the vehicles only a year after purchase.

Secretary of Property and Supplies John S. Rice also disclosed that 397 used state cars will be sold to the highest bidder on Feb. 29.

The new purchasing plan calls for selling used automobiles direct to the public instead of trading them in on new vehicles.

List Contracts
In sales to the state, Barmont Jones Motor Corp., Harrisburg, bid $1,087 for each of 370 Ford automobiles and $1,106 for 320 more expensive Fords.

Morrison Motors, Orwigsburg, was awarded a $200,188 contract for 55 Ford dump trucks at a unit price of $3,629.

Barmont Jones also received two other contracts for sale to the state of 40 special Fords to be used by state police at a cost of $1,213 each and 15 Ford station wagons for $1,365 each.

... THESE LAWYERS
OMAHA (AP)—The gray-haired foreign born woman asked to be excused from District Court jury duty. She said "I have lived in the United States 50 years. I know the little words okay, but not the big ones. And you know these lawyers..." Judge Ross Newark excused her.

he can depend on their almost undivided support.

If he says he won't be a candidate, some members of his party in Congress may pull away from him. But it's hard to see many of them doing that.

And for a good reason: Eisenhower's program and their support for it will have to be the main talking point of the Republicans in this year's election campaign.

Their chief hope of winning in 1956 is Eisenhower, whether or not he runs, and the claims they can make to supporting him and seeing eye to eye with him on most things.
